NEW TEUTON DRIVE IS SOURCE OF WORRY

Serbia Claims Repulses of Invaders at Belgrade and Infliction of Heavy Losses at Other Points.

BRITISH FEAR GREECE MAY ALSO TURN

Public Demands Situation Be Handled With More Diplomatic Skill Than Was Shown With Bulgaria.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The advance guard of the Teutons, who crossed the Danube at Belgrade, has been partly destroyed and partly captured. Those that entered Serbian territory across the Save met with enormous losses, according to the official despatch of the Serbians.

Efforts of the Teutons to force a way through Serbia to reach the near eastern seas and join hands with the Turkish allies have produced one of the most interesting situations of the war. The Teuton troops have already gained a foothold in Serbian territory, but are not yet in touch with the main Serbian army, which is entrenched in the mountains just beyond the rivers.

The entire forces which landed at Saloniki are making their way northward to assist the Serbians and protect Macedonia from the threatened Bulgarian invasion. The landing of British and French troops is proceeding despite the change in the Greek government.

The entire ministers at Athens have asked Greece to define its policy in the Balkan situation. The new premier, Zaimis, answered that he is unable to do so until a meeting of the cabinet is held. There is evidence that Greece will maintain a policy of benevolent neutrality towards the allies.

The allied fleets off the Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and Black seas view the possibility of a Russian landing on the Black sea coast of Bulgaria. It is stated a Turkish army is being sent there so that the Bulgars need not be called upon to fight their old friends and protectors.

No renewed offensive of the allies in the west has materialized. A somewhat similar situation has developed on the Russian front. The Germans several times showed signs of developing a big attack against Dvinsk, but beyond tanking a few yards gains, there was no progress.

The German mercantile marine in the Baltic is feeling the effects of submarine warfare. Virtually all German shipping in that quarter is held up by British and Russian submarines.

The press and public of London and Paris, with the experience of the sudden change in Bulgaria's attitude fresh in memory, are demanding steps to see that a similar change does not occur at Athens. It has been suggested the appearance of an allied fleet in Greek waters would have the effect of holding the Greeks in line.

What assistance Italy will lend the allies in the new venture in the Balkans is not disclosed. No change in the policy of Rumania has been announced.

The German press suggests the allies, despite the landing of troops at Saloniki, are preparing for more energetic operations in Turkey in the hope of smashing her before German assistance arrives, and that Italy may take part in these operations.

There are still three months of good weather ahead for any new move against the Danubians, and operations in other parts of the Aegean district, while the Russians are expected to force matters in the Caucasus and from there push along to Bagdad.

Recent French attacks at Champagne and Artois were apparently local and almost all to capture points of vantage which brought about furiously German counterattacks. This is particularly true of the attack against Hill Tabora.

From the Dnieper region down to Galicia the Teutons are engaged in meeting strong Russian attacks. Poland's mud is again clogging the wheels of the allies and it is doubtful whether either will be able to make important moves for some weeks. Winter and hard frosts are indicated for the second year.

FINE BASEBALL WEATHER. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Fair and cooler is the forecast for tomorrow. Indications are for ideal weather for the second game.

TURKS KILL ARMENIANS; BRING THEM TO U. S., MORGENTHAU PLAN

Abandoned homes of Armenians; fanatical Kurds who are slaughtering Armenians; Ambassador Morgenthau.

According to a trustworthy report from Constantinople, in effect to transport to America the Armenians now being driven from their homes by the Turks has been made to the American ambassador, Henry Morgenthau. "Horrified by the terrible massacres and expulsions which accompanied the removal of the Armenians from their homes, and by his helplessness to assist them through the regular channels," says the report, "the ambassador has offered to make himself personally responsible for $5,000,000 and to find other men in the United States to raise another $4,000,000, the money to be spent in emigrating the remaining Armenians to America."

MINE OWNERS AGREEABLE TO CONFERENCE

With Western Federation Officers and Agents Out of District Chief Condition Called for By Managers Has Been Met.

PHOENIX, Oct. 8.—A conference of mine officials, and a committee representing the copper miners in the Clifton-Morenci-Midvale district recently on strike for recognition of the Western Federation and a new wage scale, will probably be held in El Paso in a few days.

Adjutant General Harris, who delivered a letter to the mine managers requesting the conference, reported to Governor Hunt he believed the managers will take favorable action. A definite answer is expected tomorrow.

The governor has received a message from the British consul at El Paso, demanding protection of British subjects in the strike district. A company of militia arrived at Phoenix tonight from Flagstaff and will probably proceed to Clifton tomorrow.

CLIFTON HEARS CONDITIONS. CLIFTON, Oct. 8.—Word was received tonight that the mine managers will return to Clifton and discuss with the striking miners and smeltermen, their grievances on certain conditions, which will be made known on the arrival of Sheriff Cash here.

The Sheriff sent a message to Clifton saying: "Meet the mine managers and arrange with them to meet a committee and discuss a conference. Notify workmen in other parts of the Arizona district, while the Russians are expected to force matters in the Caucasus and from there push along to Bagdad."

Recent French attacks at Champagne and Artois were apparently local and almost all to capture points of vantage which brought about furiously German counterattacks. This is particularly true of the attack against Hill Tabora.

AERIAL ARMY IS PUT IN FIELD BY FRANCE

Battleships and Cruisers Are Heavily Armored and Armed; All Ready for Immediate Aggression.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The aerial army is no longer a dream of romance. Such an army, formed in divisions and squadrons with battle aeroplanes, cruiser aeroplanes, scouts and torpedo planes, is armed heavily, carrying three-inch cannon and rapid fire guns, is at least a reality. It has been made possible through the remarkable development of military aviation in France. The French government has permitted correspondents a first inspection of this new fleet aeroplanes.

The aviation field is a vast enclosure. Hovering the field a monster battle plane loomed up. Fifty feet high with a number of planes stretched 120 feet across. Further back was a smaller fleet of battle cruisers and scout planes. They were formed like battalions, twenty planes in a row across the front and ten deep. The huge wings made a front a half mile wide. The battle plane and all cruisers were armed heavily. Each carried both three inch cannon and rapid fire guns.

The huge battle plane was the chief center of attraction. The engineer who constructed it explained the details. Its officers said this was the actual realization of a battle as other aerial dreadnaughts had proved impractical. This monster actually flies, carrying a crew of twelve men, and two cannon which throw three inch steel projectiles. Three trial flights have demonstrated it has the steadiness of an ordinary biplane.

MARY GARDEN RECOVERING. LONDON, Oct. 8.—From her country place at Strichen, Scotland, Mary Garden, the American soprano, telegraphed: "Miss Garden broke down last summer from the strain of her performance. No operation was performed. She is getting back strength to enable her to return to her duties in France." Reports were recently published here that Miss Garden, who had been nursing in hospitals at Paris and elsewhere, was gravely ill.

Break Between King and His Premier Given to the Public

Greek General Publishes What Purports to Be Substance of Dispute Which Resulted in Resignation of Venizelos and Effected a Complete Change of Aspect in the Eastern Situation and Europe's World Struggle.

Minister Is Accused of Contradicting Himself and His Former Policy; King Ready to Concentrate Army for Defense of Nation But, Despite Treaties, Could See No Reason to Precipitate Country Into War for Benefit of Serbia.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—What purports to be details of the historic interview between King Constantine and Eleutherios Venizelos, which resulted in the latter's resignation of the premiership is printed in the Greek Journal Kairo.

After agreeing to mobilization as a precaution involving no change of policy, the king asked the premier what was the object of concentration of the army on the Macedonian frontier. Venizelos answered the object was twofold. To defend the country, and to go to the aid of Serbia in case she was attacked by Bulgaria. The king agreed with Venizelos so far as defending the country was concerned, but did not see how Greece was called upon to help Serbia. The premier recalled treaty obligations and Constantine retorted that Greece asked Serbia's aid against Turkey in 1912, but it was refused.

To further arguments of Venizelos, the king replied that the premier was contradicting himself, for when the allied powers asked Greece to assist Serbia at the time of Austrian attack, Venizelos made the promise that such assistance would be conditional on armed cooperation of Rumania and benevolent neutrality of Bulgaria. These conditions not having been pledged, the king refused to join Serbia at the time when Austrian forces arrayed against her did not exceed 150,000 and Bulgaria was not hostile.

"But today," the king added, "the Teutons have half a million to whom must be added 300,000 Bulgarians, and the retreat of the Russians prevents the Rumanians from doing anything for Serbia."

PRESIDENT TAKES SECOND PLACE IN INTEREST

Public in New York Relegates Chief Executive to Background When He Appears With His Bride-to-Be.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The President and his fiancée arrived for a brief visit with Colonel House. From the time of their arrival until late tonight they were the chief objects of interest. Wherever they appeared the public followed by thousands.

For the first time since he became president, Wilson gave way as the center of attraction. People were anxious to see him, but all eyes centered on the woman who is to be next "first lady." Both were pleased with their reception but slightly shy. The president gave himself up to entertaining his fiancée. He was happy and jovial and his usually stern face was wreathed in smiles.

The program of the couple included an automobile ride in the park; a dinner party at the home of Col. House, and a theatre party tonight. Tomorrow they leave for Philadelphia to witness the second game of the World's Series.

"Grumpy" was the play at the theatre but the President and his fiancée were easily the stars of the evening. As they entered the audience roared and applauded. The applause continued till the President, his fiancée and Miss Bones appeared in a box and were seated.

Several hundred persons gathered at the Pennsylvania Station when the couple arrived. They were accompanied by Mrs. Oak's mother, Miss Bones, Secretary Tamm and Dr. Cary Grayson. An unusually large number of secret service men headed by Chief Flynn were with them.

House, the Collector of the Port of New York and Dudley Malone were at the station to greet the party. They hurried into a limousine, the crowd applauded, cheered and pushed forward for a chance to see the fiancée. She beamed on the crowd. The President looked at her, smiled and said "they are applauding you."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Belief is expressed that the Pan-American conference tomorrow will result in the announcement that recognition should be extended to Carranza. Actual recognition may not follow for a few weeks. But the announcement is expected to have an important moral effect in bringing other factions to the support of Carranza.

FOUR JURORS SWORN IN SCHMIDT TRIAL

Box Is Filled But Challenges Rule Out Talesmen Immediately.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—Four jurors of the panel which will try Matthew Schmidt charged with the murder of Charles Hargerty in connection with the dynamiting of the Times building, were sworn in late today. Court then adjourned until Monday.

The twelfth talesman was passed for cause in mid-session. After a short recess seven were removed by peremptory challenges and one excused by the court.

The jurors chosen, are W. W. Toller, railroad conductor; Stanford Woodbury, stock raiser; E. H. Miller, apartment house owner and C. D. Daniels, fruit grower. Woodbury tried to be excused, saying he feared the possible effects to his nervous system if required to sit through a trial lasting two months of 1915.

Without giving personal attention to his business.

LAWSON IS RELEASED $35,000 BAIL GIVEN

Order of Supreme Court in Colorado Gives Liberty to Labor Leaders.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 8.—John Lawson, the labor leader, convicted of first degree murder as an outgrowth of the recent coal strike, was released tonight on $35,000 bonds, signed by Thomas Patterson, former United States senator, and Vernon Reed, a Denver capitalist.

The release of Lawson was effected through an order of the Supreme court granting bail. Lawson emerged smiling from the "bull pen" where with thirty other prisoners he has spent the last three months.

"I'm glad to see you," said a trembling voice, as he greeted John McLennan, president of the State Federation of Labor, who arrived tonight from Denver with the band. Dangling new clothes, Lawson stepped outside.

"Thank God!" he murmured.

He immediately telephoned his wife he expected to join her tomorrow.

LOAN STRICTLY NEUTRAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—That acceptance by the American bankers of the half billion loan to the allies is a strictly neutral business transaction designed to promote commercial prosperity of the United States is the position taken by J. P. Morgan in an address delivered to the bondmen, representing financial houses interested in the sale of Anglo-French bonds.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Grover Cleveland Alexander won his game from Boston, but victory was far from being the impressive one which his teammates of the Philadelphia club had predicted. The breaks of the game were with the star pitcher of the National league, as they had to be to give him the honor of winning the first world's series contest in which he ever participated. The Phillies made their three runs on five of the flukest hits the game has ever known, a Texas leaguer which developed into the first run of the series, being the only safe ball driven out of the diamond by a Philadelphia batsman. It had been predicted that the short outfield would prove the winning factor for the locals, but contrary to all expectations, it was the infield wet and heavy from fifteen hours of rain that turned the tide in their favor.

Shore had his last ball with a hop on it that was on a par with the best Alexander had to offer. Against the five break hits he allowed, Alexander was hit safely eight times, each of the blows being line drives to the outfield. There was not an extra base in any of them, however, and no two came in the same inning.

"His Hobby" Hobitzel, the first base guardian of the Red Sox, innocently ended the first inning's attack by his teammates when he calmly stepped into slumberland off his home station and was caught almost flabbergasted by a quick toss from Alexander to Ludwick for the third out. Hooper was on third base at the time and Lewis at bat. When he was given a delayed chance in the second inning Lewis shot a stinging single between short and third. The bone by Hobitzel hurt the chances of the Red Sox materially, but it was in the eighth that the game was taken away beyond all hope of recall when young Scott, at short for the visitors, stood transfixed as he watched Barry make a wonderful stop of a drive from Baneroff and was so completely overcome by the seemingly miraculous play that he forgot all about covering second base, allowing Stock, who had walked, (Continued on Page 3)
